Manufacture of missiles in collaboration with Russia

3539. SHRI VITHALRAO MADHAVRAO JADHAV:

SHRI KRISHNA KUMAR BIRLA:

Will the Minister of DEFENCE be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that India have technological collaboration in the manufacture of missiles with Russia;

(b) whether it is also a fact that some countries are bringing political pressure on Russia not to help India in the development of missiles;

(c) if so, what is the stand of Russia in this regard; and

(d) the manner in which Government propose to carry on its missile development programme?

THE MINISTER OF DEFENCE (SHRI SHARAD PAWAR): (a) India has collaborative agreement with erstwhile USSR for manufacture of anti-tank guided missiles.

(b) There is no collaboration agreement with Russia in the indigenous Integrated Guided Missiles Development Programme. As such, there is no scope for bringing political pressure on Russia not to help India in this programme.

(c) Russia is a member of the Commonwealth of independent States. Member-States of the Commonwealth have guaranteed, in accordance with their constitutional procedures, the fulfilment of international obligations stemming from the Treaties and Agreements of the former USSR.

(d) The missile development programme is being carried out as totally indigenous effort.
